Epecial to The Tribune.

LEHI, Sept. 24.—The sugar beet farmers of Utah county have been notified by the Lehi sugar factory officials to tonumence digging their beets Monday, and on Saturday the factory will commence its season's run. The men were eiven their places in the mill today and verything is practically in readiness for what promises to be a successful campaign. All the old employees were given their former positions and the new places were filled with applicants who are married men. Superintendent Gardner said that never before has he had so many applicants for work. Special to The Tribune.

pilcants for work.

The best crop is making better progress than it was a few weeks ago, but owing to the unprecedented dry season the tonnage will be about 25 per cent less than last year. The shortage is principally in Utah county, as in Sevier and Sanpete counties the yield will be up to the usual standard.

and Sanpete counties the yield will be up to the usual standard.

The agricultural officials tried out this week a new beet topper invented by John Dewey and sons. The topper is patterned somewhat after the idea of a plow share and is drawn by three horses. It will top perfectly between 90 and 95 percent of the beets, leaving the other small per cont fairly well topped. It will mean a saving to the beet raisers of fully 80 per cent of the beet raisers of fully 80 per cent of the cost of digging. Mr. Dewey, who is the head machinist at the sugar factory, is making three plows and toppers combined. One will work at Lehi, one at Garland and one in Sevier county. Already he has received an offer running up into the thousands of dollars for a part interest in his invention. The sugar company has abandoned its lime rock quarry at Topliff which has supplied the Lehi and Garland factories for the past several years and will get its rock in the future at the old Kelbo quarry near Santaquin.

The cutting station at Springville has
